

Where to Address Medical Ethical Issues

1. Major national medical societies (see most important societies below)
 - a. Medical Ethic Committee
 - b. Political Action Committee (PAC)
2. Major Science/medical journals (Write letters to the editors)
 - a. Nature
 - b. Science
 - c. NEJM
 - d. JAMA
3. Congressional Caucuses
 - a. Medical Technology
 - b. Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM)
4. Your local Representative or Senator

MEDICAL SOCIETIES

Academy of Medical Ethics	American Orthopedic Association
American Academy of Family Physicians	American Society for Clinical Pathology
American Academy of Neurology	American Society of Anesthesiologists
American Academy of Ophthalmology	American Society of General Surgeons
American Academy of Otolaryngology (ENT)	American Society of Maxillofacial Surgeons
American Academy of Pediatrics	American Society of Plastic Surgeons
American Association of Neurological Surgeons	American Society of Transplant Surgeons
American College of Cardiology	American Thoracic Society
American College of OB and Gynecologists	Radiological Society of North America
American College of Physicians	Society of Critical Care Medicine
American College of Surgeons	Society of Thoracic Surgeons
American Medical Association

Richard M. Satava, MD FACS
Professor Emeritus of Surgery
University of Washington